HIAWATHA

Quite from its dramatic interest is the educational value of the moving pictures of "HIAWATHA," particularly the dance of the Medas, Medieine Men, while Minnehaba is dying. It requires the utmost tact to persuade the Indians to do this sacred dance before the camera, as few white men have ever been permitted to see it.

The fact that their faces are covered with medicine masks, so that no member of their tribe knows who did it, alone makes it possible for Mr. Moore to have it done.

Nothing would induce them to do the Feather Dance in public, and the so-called False Face Dance ranks

An other valuable contribution to our knowledge of their customs is the funeral of Minnehaha. When the women have prepared the body for burial, it is stealthily taken out of the back of the wigwam, so that the evil spirits may not know of her departure, and then it is borne on a bier to a distant part of the forest and placed among the branches of a hemlock tree, far above the reach of marauding animals. Then for four nights a fire is lighted under it to light her soul upon her journey to the Island of the Blessed.

One well known man wrote after seeing the first projection of the pictures: "From now on I can think of Hiawatha, Minnehaha, Nokomis, Iagoo and Pau-pau-Keewis as men and women I have known. So vividly have the moving pictures presented them to my eyes, that the lines of Longfellow's great gift." At Tabb Opera House, Matinee and night, Wednesday, Nov. 11th.

UNION STOCKYARDS AT CHICAGO CLOSED

The Chicago Union stockyards, the largest cattle market in the world, which has been in continuous business since 1865 was ordered closed Thursday for several days because of the prevalence of the hoof and mouth disease among cattle.

The stockyards, it was officially stated, probably will remain closed ten days. The closing order went into effect at the close of business Friday, November 6, and will continue until the opening of business on the second Monday thereafter, Novem-

The immediate effect of the suspension order will be to stop the shipment of cattle, sheep and hogs to the Chicago market, which amounts to almost 100,000 head daily.

This alone outside of the meat packing industry amounts to a daily business of $1,200,000 and affects 35,000 employes.

The finding in the stockyards that 600 cattle taken from various points had been affected and the belief that the contagion had spread to various parts of the yards made the immediate action necessary.

"The list of States now quarantined by Federal authorities includes New York, Maryland, Indiana, Michigan, Illinois and Pennsylvania. In addition to these restrictions have been placed upon interstate shipment from Ohio, although no cases have as yet been found in that state. There is reason to fear, however, that infeeted stock may have been sent into Ohio. If this is found not to have been the case the embargo will be lifted. This outbreak which is the first in the United States since 1908, - regarded as the most serious of my that the United States has yet xperienced. Not only has it already pread over an extensive area, but its virulence seems to be above the aver-

Vigorous measures will be neces sary to stamp it out. The cost of suppressing the last outbreak in 1908 was estimated at $299,112.10. In addition the loss to dairy and stock raisers was heavy.

"Interstate shipments of cattle, sheep and swine are absolutely prohibited from the state now quarantined. Stock can not even be sent from one infected State to another.

Chenault's Selection Is Not Confirmed

Mr. John R. Thomas Nominated For Road Engineer But Fiscal Court Refuses to Concur.

At last Wednesday's meeting of the Fiscal Court, County Judge W. O. Chenault nominated for the office of County Road Engineer, Esq. J. R. Thomas, one of our best known and highly esteemed citizens of the Howard's Mill neighborhood. It was explained to the members of the Court that Mr. Thomas had not yet taken the examination before the State Highway Department, but would do so if his selection was acceptable to the court. Upon this hypothesis his name was submitted and on a roll call all six of the Magistrates voted not to confirm the Judge's selection. This leases Mr. Jno. S. Wyatt, the incumbent, in office, as he holds until his successor is chosen and qualified.

Under the law it is the individual prerogative of the County Judge to make this selection, but his choice must be confirmed by the Fiscal Court. He cannot choose him independent of the Magistrates and they cannot vote for any one whom he does not nominate, but have the diserction of voting to confirm or reject iny one whom he does so nominate.

When the Magistrates voted unanmously in opposition to the confirmation of Mr. Thomas, Judge Chenault made no other nomination and the meeting adjourned until the regular meeting in December, when the subject may or may not again be brought up by the re-nomination of Mr. Thomas or the nomination of some

This anomalous situation is due to the peculiar wording of the new road law, which authorizes the County Judge to appoint a county road engineer "by and with the consent of the Fiscal Court." Just when the present deadlock will end is therefore problematical.

Esq. Thomas is a gentleman of edecation and culture; has heretofore held offices of confidence and honor, having been a member of the Kentucky Legislature during the memorable long session following the adoption of the present Constitution and more recently a member of the Montgomery Fiscal Court from the fifth district, and always acquitted himself with credit.

His many friends throughout the county deeply regret his rejection feeling that he would have readily obtained a certificate from the State Board and made a satisfactory pub-

PREPARING FOR DRY TOWN

As a result of the local option election in Maysville, which voted "dry" on September 28, the City Council of that city at its last regular meeting placed a tax upon every business house in the city from $16 to $50 to make up the deficit that will be caused in the city's finances by the loss of the revenue derived heretofore from the saloon licenses.

"DRYS" WIN CONTEST.

As predicted in our last issue the Contest Board composed of County Judge Chenault and Magistrates Mc-Cormick and Boyd, decided the contest instituted by D. N. Young and others in favor of the "drys." In anticipation of an adverse decision, Judge Lewis Apperson, counsel for the "wets," had the proper papers for an appeal all ready and the process was immediately served appealing the case to the Circuit Court.

It is the contention of the prohibition advocates that the supersedeas issued from the Circuit Court Clerk's office cannot now delay for lnoger than sixty days the enforcement of the people's wishes as expressed in the election. Formerly the status that existed immediately before the election could be continued by supersedeas, not only during the pendency of an appeal from the Contest Board's decision, but also while an appeal was pending in the Circuit Court and Court of Appeals. The "drys" contend that the Act of March, 1914, does away with this effect of a supersedeas in such cases and that the status desired, as shown by the County's vote, must now begin not later than sixty days after the Contest Board's decision.

If this position is right, the Sity Council will not have power to grant any saloon licenses for the next year. All such licenses now in force expire on December 31st, and the sixty days will end only three or four days later. Some contend that the sixty days time began last County court day, October 19th. It loks as if the situation might bring about legal proceedings for the purpose of compelling the City Council to grant

FARM LANDS IN DEMAND

There never was a time when farm lands were in such demand as at present. The high prices and ready market for all kinds of farm products and live stock, and the comparative ease in which a man can support his family on the farm has prought men to a realization of the advantages of farm life. Better mail service, better schools, the telephone and many other modern conveniences in the country have also added to the back-to-the-farm movemet. And those who ought to know say that land is cheaper now than it will ever be again.

One loafer will stir up more trouble and discord than twenty busy men. And a loafer does not always talk small scandal; he dips into publie affairs, religion and everything else. Loafers are not always poor chaps, who have overworked wives at home. Many of them have money, and these are the most mischievous loafers in town . They make more trouble than the poor loafer because more attention is paid to what they say. A good deal of the trouble complained of is stirred up by loafers; it is a pity that we have so many. When men have nothing else to do, they abuse each other, or the town in which they live.

The announcement that the Europea; war will soon come to an end for lack of finances is premature. By the time the countries involved in the struggle have reached the limit of their eash and the end of their eredit they have acquired a real desire for fight. And as for resourees, think how long the South continued to fight after its each and its credit were gone and its paper money worth only 2 cents on the dollar.
